Subject: Public Comment period ends Oct 23 - Public Notice - North Dakota Department of Environmental Quality

Good afternoon Mr. Tweeton, I work at EPA Region 8 as the Water Quality Standards Coordinator for North Dakota. Maggie Pierce shared your contact information with me.

North Dakota Department of Environmental Quality (NDDEQ) is revising its Water Quality Standards. I presume Spirit Lake Sioux Tribe received notice of NDDEQ's proposed Water Quality Standards revisions, but just in case, the link is below:

Pete Wax, WQS Coordinator at NDDEQ, said he believes all of the Tribes in North Dakota are on the state's mailing list for public notices so Spirit Lake should have received this notice, but I thought I'd forward the link to you just in case.

The public comment period ends this Friday, October 23, which unfortunately, doesn't give you much time to review them.

Thanks, and so sorry for reaching out to you so late. Please feel free to call me if you have any questions.
